

CANADIAN WOMEN & SPORT

SHE'S GOT IT ALL:
SKILLS, DETERMINATION,
AND THE VENUES
AND TIME SLOTS THE GUYS DON'T WANT.

When organizers set practise and game schedules, women's and girls' teams often get the less desirable venues and times. Playing during supertime at the field across town means fewer spectators. This sends a discouraging message to the players that people just aren't interested in watching women's sports. By ensuring fair scheduling and sharing preferred venues, organizers can support all athletes.

Let's change the game at yourrole.womenandsport.ca

Funded by the Government of Canada

Canada