SHE'S GOT IT ALL: TALENT, DETERMINATION, AND NOT ENOUGH PEOPLE TO PLAY WITH.

Girls begin playing racquetball at a young age, but as they develop as athletes, they find fewer girls to train and compete with. As a result, they often end up in programs that don't always meet their social and physical needs, leaving them feeling they don't really belong. By programming specifically for girls and women, we can keep them playing the sport they love.
