IT ALL:
PASSION,
DETERMINATION, AND A LACK OF
ATHLETIC WOMEN
AS ROLE MODELS.

Only about one in four squash coaches are women, and it's much harder for girls to envision a future in the sport when they don't have someone like themselves to look up to. Having female role models can provide much-needed confidence and can inspire a girl to stay in the game well into adulthood.
