

SHE'S GOT IT ALL: SKILLS, DETERMINATION, AND NOT A LOT OF WOMEN COACHES IN HER FUTURE!

Photo: Michael P. Hall

As girls develop their volleyball skills and play more competitively, they encounter fewer and fewer women coaches. When girls have strong female leaders, they can envision a future for themselves in the sport. With personal experience girls can relate to, women coaches can instill the confidence and inspiration needed to keep them playing the sport they love.

Let's change the game at yourrole.womenandsport.ca